LGBTQIA Office description added 8/7/13:

UNDERGRADUATE CATALOGUE CHANGE

The LGBTQIA Resource Office
(www.uncw.edu/lgbtqia)
The LGBTQIA Resource Office at the University of North Carolina Wilmington supports lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning, intersex and allied students, faculty, staff, and alumni. Our office works to create a safe and inclusive environment for the LGBTQIA community and contribute to a culturally rich campus. Additionally, the office works both to raise awareness and inclusion of sexual and gender minorities and to provide information, referral, support, and programming to the UNCW Community. We do this through community building, advocacy, social justice and diversity education and the development of global citizens. All members of the UNCW campus are welcome, regardless of gender identity or other factors.

The following correction was made to the Gerontology Minor, 11/08/2013:

Gerontology Minor

The Department of Health and Applied Human Sciences offers an interdisciplinary minor in gerontology which focuses on the study of older adults and the aging process. The minor draws faculty from the Departments of Sociology and Criminology, Psychology, Health and Applied Human Sciences (e.g., Community Health and Recreation Therapy), Social Work, and humanities fields, and the School of Nursing. The minor is designed for students with a general interest in aging. Students completing the minor will be prepared for careers which involve working with older adults. Coursework encourages students to obtain field experience in local agencies serving older adults. Students should contact the coordinator for additional information.

The following correction was made to the Environment Concentration for the International Studies, B.A., 9/25/2013:

International Studies, B.A.

http://uncw.edu/int

Dr. H. Berg, director

The College of Arts and Sciences offers an interdisciplinary B.A. degree in International Studies. This degree program is designed to provide a distinctive international credential and learning experience for UNCW students. Occupations and professions in a variety of settings increasingly emphasize global knowledge, skills, and experience. The goal of the program is for students to acquire basic liberal arts skills combined with substantive knowledge and skills focused on global awareness. The integrative program curriculum will allow students to focus on a particular international theme or geographic area of concentration, providing exposure to other cultures, people and places, an understanding of one's own culture from international perspectives, and a deeper appreciation of the global society.

Environment Concentration:

- INT 480 - Global Issues
- UNDERGRADUATE CATALOGUE CHANGE INT 482 - Topics in the Global Environment (INT 485 was erroneously listed).
